

What have you done today?

Brennan: Hi Ashley, I haven't seen you since class this morning. You said you were pretty swamped. What have you done today?

Ashley: Yes, it has been a hectic day, but it's still been a great day! I ran a lot of errands. Let me think . . . I've gone to the pharmacy, I've stopped by the mechanic, I've been to the bank, and I've gone to the grocery store.

Brennan: Wow, and all of that since class! Why did you need to go to the pharmacy and the mechanic? Is anything wrong?

Ashley: No, thankfully not! I've needed to take my car to the mechanic for a tune-up for over a month now--it was long overdue. And I just went to the pharmacy to fill my regular prescription! Nothing out of the ordinary!

Brennan: Ahh, that's relieving to hear. I'm glad you mentioned the pharmacy--I think I've had a cold the last couple of days. I need to go get some cough syrup.

Ashley: I have had great experiences at the CVS on Ocoee Street--I would recommend them!

Brennan: Good to know! Anything else you've done today?

Ashley: Oh yeah, there was one bummer part to my day. I violated my parking meter limit, so I have to pay a parking ticket at the city court. I've never gotten a parking ticket before, but I guess there's a first time for everything.

Brennan: Don't worry, it gets easier! I've received three or four!

Ashley: Oh well that's very reassuring. What have you done today, Brennan?

Brennan: Well, I haven't done a lot. I planned to go to the salon and the florist to buy my mother gifts for her birthday, but I haven't gotten much sleep these days. Since I slept through my alarm, I didn't have time to make a withdrawal from the bank before class.

Ashley: Sounds like we've both had trouble with timers today!
